Tonight you feel like stranger
So far from home, you're just scared
My empty silence tries to show to you how I'm

You believed I could change,
But there are thing you couldn't explain
Now the price we pay for
This quarrel is to fade away

You cried when you saw me go away
I'm sorry for yesterday
Sorry for the kisses that I never gave you
Sometimes I

Tried to find better way
That I forgot the day after
Promises that I could change
Are losing meaning while my time goes by

One of us was wrong, but
No one admitted what were the fault
I'll search new light in my darkness
I'll never forget what happened when

You cried...

Tried to find better way...

The words that I can't explain
The promises of yesterday
Are fading in our memories
Just leaving us the sour taste of
The hours we lost
To find wrong reason
To say: 'Look, I was right! '

You and me, together we couldn't try to live
You and I, maybe we was waiting for the end of time
When we was just one human being
And we had something to divide
Hands will search yours here in my bed
I'll understand I'll never say: 'You are my life...'

My star tonight will be so far
But his light will burn inside my heart
