The party was sieged by the drunks and the scorned,
Still your silence was deafening my ears.
I was caught up in your smile
Then I turned and you were gone.
Ten feet tall as I danced right down your stairs.

After tonight, this frequency becomes static.
I'll never be the same.
After tonight I'll go back to being bored and alone...

24 is dark,
Dylan's on the radio.
I'm never gonna sleep again.
Mr. Tambourine man if you knew what I know,
I swear you'll never sleep again.

My cold room has become a tomb.
Stuck inside a simple twist of fate.
The writing's on the wall.
It's all over baby blue.
Write it off another one that got away.

After tonight, this frequency becomes static.
We'll never be the same.
After tonight I'll go back to being bored and alone...

24 is dark,
Dylan's on the radio.
I'm never gonna sleep again.
Mr. Tambourine man if you knew what I know,
I swear you'll never sleep again.
