I've been here before
I've heard all these words
You need a new plan
Gonna have to better get them all

You used to love
You love the staring eyes
I don't see them
Gonna have to better get them all

You finally notice that I was Sneaking slowly inside your head
Did you know that it was Just me falling for you

Over again

Over again

Over again

You knew that I was falling for you

Over again

I wrote you songs
I sent you letters
Gave you my records

Gonna have to better get them all

Gave you my soul
Spent all my time
It doesn't matter
Gonna have to better get them all
Can you tell me if there's any Chance of you fitting me in really leave me alone
Standing there waiting again
Can you tell yourself to open up this time
Maybe give me one more shot no hands to block me falling

Over again

Over again

Over again

You knew that I was falling for you

Over again

I wish I could go back to when it was good
You don't remember the things that you should

(I know every line that's on your face)
(You'll never look at you the further you move away)

I wrote you songs
I sent you letters
Gave you my records

Yeah

Again

Over again

Over again

You knew that I was falling for you

Over again

Yeah

Over again

Over again

You knew that I was falling for you

Over again

Gonna have to better get them all
