Looking back now I see how far I've gone
It's been a while now for only one song

Past intentions
I never ever meant to deal with now
Well, just by looking around
I don't think that I'll ever come down

Well, you know right now that I am
Trying to change
But believe now I'll try to change

Everything you know that I could rearrange
And it gets harder and harder now
Well, you know I want to change the past

Past intentions
I never ever meant to deal with
Just by looking around
Well, you know, I tried so hard to change

Right now
Well, just by looking around
Well, I don't think that I'll ever come down
All the way down
