When I see through you
When I eat you alive
When I see through you this night
I'll have your permission to die

I am your soul
I am your angel
You called me god, but now you call me cancer
I am your dope of disease that you have always being trying to hide

This time I see through you
This time I'm eating you alive
The night is stealing from you your last breathe
So you are paralyzed

The depression is leaving you so numb
The depression is leaving you so now
You're trying to find yourself in this grief
You're becoming me
