"Soul Of The Universe"

I'd made the crime
The dreadful criminal act
The violence floating in my blood
Had washed away the track of god

I'd made the crime
At the time I met you
I destroyed myself so quick and good
After killing myself I'd destroyed you

No mercy, no remorse
We have the deadful curse
And sitting down on the knees
We have to watch the disease

Hear the revelation of pain, the revelation of cries
From the mouth of the one who you despise
Doesn't matter you're dead or alive
Your soul is waiting for it's time

I know myself
I saw the mirror of the world
Through bloody scratches on it's surface
I've seen the Universe's face
