Baby when this all begin
We said that love would never end Some time has passed, we settled in Now the shadow of darkness is hovering Oh, tell me what happened,
It started changing up and you and me are acting so different, whoa
I know that I love you, and you would love me is what you say
But I just can't believe it, Yes we disagree for some fight we get it wrong more than it's right
Yeah we make mistakes, and fix mistakes and we ain't always seeing eye to
Eye
But when the thoughts clear, and settles, when it's all said and done
When the night breaks in take... comes
Will you love me in the morning, hey, morning, hey,
morning
After the evening, will you leave me
But love me in the morning, hey, morning, hey,
morning
Now that the sun's up, will you give up
But love me in the morning,

I agree it's different, what it once was just ain't the same But word you expecting this See when it's true love there will be some bitterness But now you're so distant, I know I'm not the woman that I was

And you are not the man you were, whoa
But if you say that you love me,
Then when it's getting off, you still... even check you up
Yes we disagree for some fight we get it wrong more
than it's right
Yeah we make mistakes, and fix mistakes and we ain't always seeing eye to

When the night breaks in take... comes
Will you love me in the morning, hey, morning, hey,
morning
But love me in the morning, hey, morning, hey,
morning
Now that the sun's up, will you give up
But love me in the morning,

I know things ain't the way they used to be But it's ok, we'll get through this Cause... it's worthy, sometimes we have downs
And we know love ain't perfect, but don't give up Just love me in the morning, hey, morning, hey
morning
But love me in the morning, hey, morning, hey,
morning
Tell me now that the sun's up, will you give up
But love me in the morning.
