Five miles deep underwater
You hear their voices sing
Surely it must be to every man
A most fantastic thing
Fives miles deep under water
You can hear them singing
Calling, calling

Put away the harpoon gun
You don't need it anymore
Al we got for a memory
Is bones washed on the shore

And five miles deep underwater
You can hear them singing
Calling, calling
Five miles deep under water
You can hear them sing
Calling and it's a most fantastic thing

Tell me how did we get this far
Are we allowed to lose
Has it come too late we realise
We've lost the chance to choose

Five miles deep underwater
You can hear them singing
Calling, calling
Five miles deep under water
You can hear them sing
Calling and it's a most fantastic thing
Hear 'em calling, calling...
