When you were languishing in rooms I built to foul you in

And when the wind set down in funnel form and pulled you in

I don't need to walk around in circles

walk around in circles

walk around in circles

walk around in

dont need to walk around in circles

walk around in circles

walk around in

When the ghostly dust of violence traces everything

And when the gas runs out just wreck it, you insured the thing

walk around in circles

walk around in

walk around in circles

walk around in

doomp dah doomp dah doomp doda doiada doi

But I can't sigh now that you made the move

It has gone and gone to dogs, lay down on the floor

For the right price I can get everything

Slip into the car, go driving to the farthest star

walk a..

walk around in

(chorus
