You know why I'm scared to feel this
You know where I am you know what I want, I'm lost
I'm so lost and so scared and found true meaning
Yes found me so lost and so scared tonight

And all that I wanted and all that I needed
Just take my heartache and break it
And you're what I want
Yes you're what I need
What I need is my life
I take it for granted again

I feel like I can't love, like I can't heal
And I know I want to feel new again with your grace
Just tell me when the clouds will break
The moon will shine and break free tonight

And all that I wanted and all that I needed
Just take my heartache and break it
And you're what I want
Yes you're what I need
What I need is my life
I take it for granted again

And all that I wanted and all that I needed
Is your life, you created a uniqueness
And you, you lost it all for me
And I just repaid you with pain and grief

Turn on the lights and uncover the lies
Turn on the lights and uncover the lies
Oh, the lies

And all that I wanted and all that I needed
Is your life, you created a uniqueness
And you, you lost it all for me
And I just repaid you with pain and grief

All that you wanted and all that you needed is
My torn but grateful heart tonight
Don't you take and don't you break it
Just tell me you hate it

Cause I know you, you're lost tonight
