Hey baby, yesterday has just departed
And tomorrow hasn't started
All that really matters is right now
And you should live a lifetime in each minute
Take the sweetness from within it
Yesterday has gone without a sound

Come on, baby, let the good times roll
Time is wasting and we'll soon be old
Just give in to what you feel inside
Give your life a chance to open wide

Hey baby, yesterday has just departed
And tomorrow hasn't started
All that really matters is right now
And you should live a lifetime in each minute
Take the sweetness from within it
Yesterday has gone without a sound

What's the good of living in the past
Look around you, things are changing fast
Don't concern yourself with what's ahead
It's too late to live when you are dead

Hey baby, yesterday has just departed
And tomorrow hasn't started
All that really matters is right now
And you should live a lifetime in each minute
Take the sweetness from within it
Yesterday has gone without a sound

Hey baby, yesterday has just departed ....
