I don't wanna be no super hero
Who flies across the sky in super blue Fighting villains from the dark world, well I have my own, thank you!

And I don't wanna climb no mountains Sail across among some uncharted sea And plantin' a flag on planet out there, well that's not the life I choose For me

But sometimes I feel little surrounded, I get in a way over my head.
I can't Finish all that I ordered that's when I think of the man who walked
On water
*I would never take you for granted; to be there whenever I called.
The problems I have in my world, compare to your's they are pretty small.
*But sometimes I feel a little surrounded, I get in way
over my head
I can't finish all that I ordered, and that's when I think of the man - Who walked - on water

And some times I feel a little surrounded I get in a way
over my head
I can't finish all that I ordered and that's where I think of the man who Walked on water

Oooh, that's when I think of the man who walks on water.
