Wander alone.
Seeing is believing
Not without a soul to hold me flat on the ground

I meant every word I said
You are the one I've been looking for (Wanting more)
I'm all alone in this, what part of that did you miss?
That will not last

Hey you, I am the one you've been running from
But I know they don't know that maybe I was meant to live this way
In a love struck kind of way

Follow me into the void
Excuse me, do I even know you?
No you don't, no you don't Get a grip, oh my god get a grip
On what? on what?

The final piece that I need is that spark in your' eye
Where did it go, where did it go?

My own disguise is right in my sights
We learn, we breathe
The sky hears my plea

Hey you, I am the one you've been running from
But I know they don't know that maybe I was meant to
live this way
Hey you, I am the one you've been running from
In a love struck kind of way
But I know they don't know that maybe I was meant to
live this way
In two dimensions always, always

Yeah, I am living in the light of the world, oh
Even you can't change me now
I am living in the light of the world, oh
Even you can't change me now

I'm living in the light of the world
