Such a fine line between the truth
And what is really going on
Such a fine line between the truth
And misjudgment
Your such a liar
Give me a shred of hope you liar
Lie to my face
Make me believe that something's real
You thought you had me fooled
But darling I will never come back to you
We all knew you were untrue
Next time I see your face
I hope it's as fucked as you were
I hope that his embrace is nothing compared to me
Karmas a bitch that fits you so well
