We all go in circles
Kickin around to get out now
Try to get out now
We spin all day long on
A carousel that won't let us out
Won't let us out
But before I start to faint
Before I turn insane
My story takes a twist cuz I know nothing
About these given lanes
About your social games
And you might never ever see me again
Your faces are pale and dull
The colors left ages ago when you were younger
It's in your blood oh
The seedy city can't keep me astray no longer
... would be so great if we all can go to where we want to be
Don't get this wrong
It's not your fault
Don't get this wrong
But I need to go
Don't get this wrong
But this time I'll follow my heart
Come sing along
So that leaving won't tear us apart
Killers in my head
Would you go and die instead
Of keeping me alone
By murdering my hopes
... but I've hidden them well
