I've got a secret it's a secret just for me. And it takes me far away to places that nobody else can see. When I put my fingers down I know I'll be set free. When my lips start to part know I can go just where I wanna go. So follow me down, follow me down, down, down. Yeah follow me down, But go where you please. So follow me down, follow me down, down, To my piano. Still just a girl, I need to learn how not to be so, So analytical. But sometimes when I'm alone cant help but tear myself apart. This gives me what I need, reminds me who we really are. So follow me down, follow me down, down, down. Yeah follow me down, But go where you please. So follow me down, follow me down, down, To my piano. Cuz' I've been set ablaze, Fire's raging it's a beautiful sight. With you by my side, I'm alive never gonna burn out. So follow me down, follow me down, down, down. Yeah follow me down, But go where you please. So follow me down, follow me down, down, To my piano. You call it crazy, really call it anything you like. Doesn't change it for me. Because the fact remains this is the only place I'll ever go, That won't restrict me, where no one will ever tell me "no." So follow me down, follow me down, down, down. Yeah follow me down, But go where you please. So follow me down, follow me down, down, To my piano. Cuz' I've been set ablaze, Fire's raging it's a beautiful sight. With you by my side, I'm alive never gonna burn out. So follow me down, follow me down, down, down. Yeah follow me down, But go where you please. So follow me down, follow me down, down, To my piano. So follow me down, follow me down, down, down. Yeah follow me down, But go where you please. So follow me down, follow me down, down, To my piano.
