"Starting Line"

Watching as your eyes stare into the deep blue sky
I feel my heart skip the beat when you move
You always know the right thing to say
Your feelings hidden far away
Breath a little sigh
Hold it deep in side
Hiding in the light you always seemed so sure and strong
But we were wrong
You were afraid of losing everything in your life
I wanna hold you closer to my heart
I'll chase away all of your fears
Tell you everything will be alright
"Starting Line"
Together we'll rewrite this story
And to our tears we only say good by
As we rewrite our pictures in that sky
And in me heart your always there beside me
No matter how far you are away
You'll always be
Never blow away
Always stay this close to me
