We came toward the sunset walking with quick steps on an electric road and we know that we must forget with the future on our back and the weight of the past the rings around our eyes are always getting more black the fears flow down through your trembling legs and the animal's instinct coming back when the body lies and your soul melts the polar winter comes into myself godless masters - sons of disaster winner - loser - preachers and boozers euphoria - sorrow - borrowed shapes and colors sugars - violence - the noise of the silence p a n i c a t t a c k !
The trees sing in the night the rain washes the mouth the truth behind a cloud the silence of the crowd.
