Heartbreak last forever and never fails to win unless the one who left you here can experience that same sin remember when you can never trust anyone but her And now she's just a stranger who walks by So find your faith and pray to your god that you don't make that wrong turn Keep your hand in your pockets and your thoughts in your mind
Keep up the fight
Wish today away Until the night comes Cause now it's her turn
I see your face but your shadow tells a different story Evil has never looked so good in a smile like hers
One kiss I fall to the floor
As you look in awe this is how the body reacts to poison
This is how the body reacts to poison lips like hers
