Baby Iâ'm coming home, don't ask me where I've been.
This road has been so long sometimes I feel I can't go on.

She say's, "Hey boy honey, don't make me wait."
I said, "Girl don't worry, I won't be late."
I miss you babe, and I wanna know
Just if you'll stay to take me home.

And every time I go I say the say damn thing.

Baby Iâ'm coming home, don't ask me where I've been.
This road has been so long sometimes I feel I can't go on.

I got 500 miles to go Iâ'm late,
And I still stay standing but it's in vain.
I got one more reason Iâ'm up too late,
I got a hotel fever and I can't wait.

And every time I go I say the say damn thing

Baby Iâ'm coming home, don't ask me where I've been.
This road has been so long sometimes I feel I can't go on
