You left home
Where'd you go
Oh

And you are somewhere
In the places I can't find
It's where you always hide in the open
I flip through the page
Every sad face looks the same
I can't find you if you don't want to be saved

It's your grave
My eyes are sore
From this endless search
For you, now I'm alone
Tell me what, I'm supposed to do

You tried to escape from home
The troubles of being alone
Will follow you where you go
The road, just go

I will follow you
I will never regret
I will follow you
I will never relent
Oh
