Rosalie, I've been waiting all evening
Passing the years out of now
Counting the passing moments
Everything merges with the night

I stand on the beach
Giving up this stripsearch Different for everyone I see Seems I just can't remember Longer than last September

[Sonty] I'll go
On the real volcano
Floats like a cushion on the sea
Yet I can never sleep here
Everything condones in the night

Rosalie, we been talking all summer picking the straw from our clothes see how the breeze has softened everything crosses in the night
