Every little past frustration Taking out all your so called problems Better pull them into reality Taking out all your so called honour and all your so called self-respect your saying what you think you need to say but is it the right time or the right person you don't really even understand your own frustration you don't see the reality of your words and actions lets come together and show the world your reality the honour of who you really are you are a person as is the next but you show the next your so called self respect your walking like a one man army fighting the wrong battles living in the same old moments not seeing what you need to see the real reality of the world now even though your hands are shaking and your faith in life is broken your eyes are closed but your heart is wide open now its time to come together open up your hearts and fight the battle that actually needs fighting and make the earth one giant heart together with every past frustration an your so called problems bring them to reality

using your own honour
and showing your self-respect to everyone you know

to everyone you know

just say what you need to say say what you need to say together not as one
