Give us Saint Jude the things we need to crawl through our days

This search for new senses has blown all my old flames away

The things I used to feel just don't feel the way they used to

I've wasted all my tasting chasing headlong after you

CHORUS

You turned me blind

You turned me colourblind

I have turned colourblind

A red rag another blue day a white rage a green light

The glue my soul used to pick up this world has care-dried

"Wake up," I shout at myself but I can't

"Feel it," they sing but I find that I don't

CHORUS

I'm planning to lose myself make no excuses

To see if I notice I'm no longer here

Trying to shock myself love myself

Knock myself clear
