Behind the red door in american skin there is a murder of roses
In the midnight hiss come cover me there For i am electric nothing

Out on the tide strangers all are drowning by Under eclipse i wait for your kiss
with the beating of all these idiot hearts

No more evil now, no horror sound, no maniac song from a tyrant And the surfer king will show me everything in the great green flash of the evening

Out on the tide strangers we ride smoke in our eyes
under eclipse, i wait for your kiss
