Must take it with you when you go
'cause when you're gone the sun don't shine.
I ain't about to let it show
'cause I've been in the dark
a thousand times.

Once in a while we all feel low
and we don't feel we're worth a dime.
But there's no crying when you go
'cause I've been down a thousand times

I ain't sayin' that I don't care.
I followed your love everywhere
but I just can't go chasing any-more.
Every chase just left me tired.
You never set my heart on fire.
How many times I've seen you hit that door.

If no tears flow you must forgive me
but I've played this game before.
And if you leave long as you live
I won't chase you anymore.

I ain't sayin' that I don't care.
I followed your love everywhere
but I just can't go chasing any-more.
Every chase just left me tired.
You never set my heart on fire.
How many times I've seen you hit that door.

If no tears flow you must forgive me
but I've played this game before.
And if you leave long as you live
I won't chase you anymore.
I won't chase you anymore.
No I won't chase you anymore.
No, no, no, no, no!
