I'll hold the door
Please come in
And just sit here for a while
This is my way of telling you
I need you in my life

It's so cold without your touch
I've been dreaming way too much
Can we just turn this into reality?

'Cause I've been thinking 'bout you lately
Maybe you can save me
From this crazy world we live in
I know we could happen
'Cause you know that I've been feeling you

Storms they will come but I know
That the sun will shine again
He's my friend
And he says that we belong together

And I'll sing a song to break the ice
Just a smile from you would suffice
It's not me being nice, girl this is real tonight.

'Cause I've been thinking 'bout you lately
Maybe you can save me
From this crazy world we live in
I know we could happen
'Cause you know that I've been feeling you

I know you want me

There's no other, there's no other love
That I'd rather have, no
There ain't no one, there ain't no one else
I want you for myself

'Cause I've been thinking 'bout you lately
Maybe you can save me
From this crazy world we live in

I know we could happen
'Cause you know that I've been feeling you

I know you want me

'Cause I've been thinking 'bout you lately
Maybe you can save me
From this crazy world we live in
I know we could happen
'Cause you know that I've been feeling you

I know you want me, too
I know you want me, too
