

A.F.I. "Lower It"

Visit "Lower It" on MotoLyrics.com

An invitation, excluding no one
So you walk right in and destroy the fucking place
You've lost your right to be part of my family
The family that welcomed you, you joined and left in disgrace

Your flag's was flamin, flaming
Your flag was flaming before it ever started flying
Your flag was burning
Was burning down [Incomprehensible] in true salute

Sense of commitment, a sense of pride
I heard you say that we shared a destiny
Now it is plain to see you've got no sense at all
The name that once honored, you disgraced and made a mockery

Your flag's was flamin, was flaming
Your flag was flaming before it ever started flying
Your flag was burning
Was burning down [Incomprehensible] in true salute

I could always see
I could always see the smoke from miles away
I could always see the weakness in your eyes
Far away I feel the lies while the sky is burning

Your flag's was flaming, flaming
Your flag was flaming before it ever started flying
Your flag was burning
Was burning down [Incomprehensible] in true salute

You will always be unwanted, unwanted
You will always be unwanted, unwanted, unwanted
