Drowned in flames is where I can be found
My nose's broke from being smashed into the ground
What a waste, this place I call my home

Escape this place and break out on my own
I'm still reaching
Try to slap me down but I'll still hold

In the fray is where I can be found
My head is bruised from always being knocked around
What a fight, this life I call my own, yeah

Escape this life and break out on my own
I'm still reaching
Try to slap me down but I'll still hold
I'll hold

Escape this life and break out on my own my own
I'm still reaching
Try to slap me down but I'll still hold
I'll hold my own

Escape this life and break out on my own, my own
I'm still reaching
Try to slap me down but I'll still hold
I'll hold
I'm still reaching
