"One sunny morning
i woke up to see a bright little blue jay singing with glee he sang of far away places of bright and gay when suddenly all my sorrow began to drift away i walked to the window on my way out of bed just to close the shutters and crush his little head

No, no no, i am not a morning person (woah woah woah)

i was going upstream in my canoe then my wheels fell off i didnt know what to do then i started wondering how many pancakes fit in a dog house? then i remembered the time when i was stuck on a desert island and all i had with me was a car door which made a lot of sense because if i got hot all i did was roll down the window no, no no, im not a desert person (woah woah)
