I have seen ten roses bleed, seen new petals fall, I have felt my soul tear.
I have felt nothing at all.
Watched what was vibrant fade as shadows fall.

I can see it's been done, all that was pure had been eradicated.
I can see it's all done.
Nothing can erase the damage done.

I have seen ten liars love, seen two lovers lie, seen youth, blinded, smiling.
I have seen deceit handed down from the highest height, below the lowly.

I can see it's been done, all that was pure had been
eradicated.
I can see it's all done.
Nothing can erase the damage done.

I have seen beasts bathed in glory, tread across the angels as they crawl.
Take it all away.
Regress to nothing.
Can someone please take these images from my mind?
