So quickly draining away
If you could only hear all the things you used to say
Consumed now by what you knew was poisonous
Quenching your thirst for life, for life

Will you die, die for me?
Will you live, live for me?

Kill aspirations away
Embrace a dream that was a nightmare only yesterday
True friends forgotten and all hopes been traded in Exchanged for what, for what, for what

Will you die, die for me?
Will you live live for me?

Die for me, you gave it all away
Live for me, you gave it all away
All at once, you gave it all away
All is lost

Will you die, die for me?
Will you live, live for me?
Will you die, die for me?
Will you live, live for me?
Lost
