I'm never gonna understand this
I'm never gonna let it be
I just can't understand this aged plan
It's obsolete

How could you recognize
And cherish hysteric fairy tales?
They've come to life
Now sit by and listen the whole world wails

I feel as though I've been abducted
Or maybe I'm just misplaced
As I watch these rash hysterics
Lay to waste the human race

Just ask them if the sky will
Open and save us from the truth
They say that they'd leave today
Just without, without you

Is this one big joke?
I can only hope
With your prayers
They're the final punch line

I don't see the love
Below or above
I see you're scared
Well, I feel fine

Oh, please believe I'm doing just fine
For what's deceased I shall never grieve
Just let your faith die, die

I feel I've been abandoned
Do I alone see disgrace?
As I watch these mad dogmatics
Govern our entire race

Don't tell them you can walk on water
Or they may drink your blood
Why live for pain in the name

The name of, name of love?

I can only hope
This is in one big joke
Say your prayers
They're the final punch line

How is it divine
When it's flawed design?
Fill the cracks with faith
I can't find

Oh, please believe I'm doing just fine
For what's deceased I shall never grieve
Just let your faith die

Screaming for pure love
You venerate delusion based in hate
Bleeding from pure love, for this I pray
We've got to shake the faith, shake the faith

Oh, please
Oh, please believe I'm doing just fine
For what's deceased I shall never grieve
Just let your faith die

Oh, please believe I'm doing just fine
For what's deceased I shall never grieve
Just let your faith die, die
