Caught in a world that's plagued by something they call love

A paradigm of illness is the beast I have become The sights that I have seen could nearly bring me to my knees

I've seen exactly what it is, I never wanna be, but

I keep it deep inside myself
It's within me
Keep it deep within yourself
And sink with me

Last night I had the misfortune to see it all first hand
"Evacuate the premises", was the innate first command
What drives the need for all of this, will I ever understand?
Has someone failed to tell me of this master plan? But

I keep it deep inside myself
It's within me
Keep it deep within yourself
And sink with me

I keep it deep inside myself
It's within me
Keep it deep within yourself
And sink with me

With me, with me, with me, with me, wait
