I've seen the light that emanates from you and it makes me feel proud
A voice of reason above the muffling crowds
Such will to live and you've got so much to give Long lost sincerity

Lost in a world that's been scorched to black
Lost in myself until I finally find
A guide in you and gratitude is mine
I admire the way

Stare down the day from which others shield their eyes
With complete clarity and no trace of apathy
So positive and your heart you freely give Long lost vivacity

Lost in a world that's been scorched to black
Lost in myself until I finally find
A guide in you and gratitude is mine
I admire the way

Lost in a world that's been scorched to black
Lost in myself until I finally find
A guide in you and gratitude is mine
I admire the way, I admire the way you shine

Lost in a world that's been scorched to black
Lost in myself until I finally find
A guide in you and gratitude is mine
I admire the way

Lost in a world that's been scorched to black
Lost in myself until I finally find
A guide in you and gratitude is mine
I admire the way, admire the way you shine
