

A.F.I. "Three Reasons"

Visit "Three Reasons" on MotoLyrics.com

Where were you? Say, you were gone Well, ask me and I'll swear, you were there all along Another place, another state, any rate, I can't relate There's no two ways, you're a disgrace

Drown down your fear, suffocate every spark of clarity
Your weakness sickens me, saddens me, strengthens
me
There's no way to free responsibility

Who's to blame? Who's in the wrong?
The truth from what you hide, it was you all along You were there, you didn't care, heart and mind were self impaired
Now, all that's left is our despair

Drown down your fear, suffocate every spark of clarity
Your weakness sickens me, saddens me, strengthens
me
There's no way to free responsibility

Drown down your fear, suffocate every spark of clarity
Your weakness sickens me, saddens me, strengthens
me
There's no way to free responsibility
