

Dana Falconberry

"Leave In The Middle Of The Night"

Visit "Leave In The Middle Of The Night" on MotoLyrics.com

i'm gonna leave in the middle of the night you won't know i'm gone until the sun comes up and i'm not where i was i'm taking all my stuff and a couple things of yours i'll drive into the moonlight without pause i'm gonna beat the train flying westward where the wind blows cause everything i know is moving fast as i am through the desert sand and mountain snow

you don't understand
you never will never will never will i can't stand still

i'm gonna buy an airplane i will fly above the city lights the traffic and the hurt i'll take up with the birds change my location for a warmer climate without words

i'm gonna find myself a boat sail to the horizon where the sky and water interchange and i'll come back someday maybe
when i do nothing will be the same

you don't understand
you never will never will never will
i can't stand still

Thanks to Razvan

Visit Dana Falconberry page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.