i loved her so i let my horses go over the hill, sadie it was always true, i never knew love until sadie

she'll never know how happy she made me i sing of her still, i always will
sadie

my days are filled with empty fields and endless hills all without sadie
the nights are mean they tease me with dreams all about sadie

she'll never know how lonely she made me

where they will, sadie i will never learn, i'll wait till she returns over that hill
to me

she'll never know what a wreck she made me
