I close my eyes
And go outside
Into the night
Astro projecting
Into the stars
My body breaks up
To D.N.A.
Becoming all.
When I am here I feel at home
Becoming part of the unknown.
We are multidimensional,
Entranced to think that we're alone;
That our reality's only when we're awake.
What if we're sleeping now
And our dreams are our fate?
I am the lone star;
A burning soul.
Don't need another.
I'm fine alone.
Found my belonging
Inside the sky
Of when you're sleeping.
My spirit shines.
When I am here I feel at home
Becoming part of the unknown.
We are multidimensional,
Entranced to think that we're alone;
That our reality's only when we're awake.
What if we're sleeping now
And our dreams are our fate?
