Yo, I was, we can hope this beat better than broken you
Fix me up, pick me up, so I know the truth
Lift me up but, just so they nodes you
Take control of my life I'm a wipe, she's a soldier too
You change my fate, there's so much to be great for ...
for
While others making a fake claims to hate you for
But they couldn't be mistaken more
You covered up every one of my mistakes and more
From my transgressions to my plates and sins
A lot of ... my hate within Left me half step in, feeling paper thing
Even with my intentions I had to make demands Lord forgive my sins, help me walk the straight and arrow
Cause every mess I'm in, I'm get hit with Satan's arrow You wanna test my strength, claiming that my faith is peril
Saying I'm alone but I know you always there so

I wanna thank you for my life, my hope and your light
For you know me as I am, my fear is not existent
And I'm way above myself you always ...
I am grateful, so grateful, so grateful
Yeah I am grateful

Know what I'm grateful for, his every single breath
That he blew on my lungs, the movement is one
I move with your son, and even though we all caught up in this place
Most walk at a steady pace, I'm choosing to run, I can't slow down
Though at times my feet hurt
I loose hope and the rhymes I spit don't seem to work
They just ignore me, I'm no more than the kid on the corner
Displaying his faith on his t-shirt
But what is he worth? First I was lifeless
But through you I've been rebirth, and it was priceless
See they don't like this, you need to understand

Before you come up and grab his hand
You gotta reach first
It's on you to make the first move
We all stuck on defense between... you gotta first choose
If you wanna leave, walking is mercy
I'm forever grateful lord, because I know I'm ... worthy

I wanna thank you for my life, my hope and your light
For you know me as I am, my fear is not existent
And I'm way above myself you always ...
I am grateful, so grateful, so grateful
Yeah I am grateful

... my father, uh, I just wanna thank him
Whoa, I just wanna thank him
His love is ... spacious
And I sing from the top of my lungs
All I want is your love
Uh and I'm so grateful, uh and I'm so grateful, so grateful

Yeah, now what I'm grateful for, is every time I was caught in the jam
I reached for his hand and he cared for me
A set of footprints in the sand thought I was alone
I couldn't stand on my own so he carried me
He's always there when I need him the most
And he always seems to care when everybody lets go
So I never understand when people say that they hate you
I owe you my life lord, I'm eternally grateful
One more time, I'm eternally grateful

I wanna thank you for my life, my hope and your light
For you know me as I am, my fear is not existent
And I'm way above myself you always ...
I am grateful, so grateful, so grateful
Yeah I am grateful X 2
