We think about giving it up, up, up
Maybe, it's better for the both of us
Seems it'll never lift me up
Upper I can find and see

Climbing on this mountain - should I stop?
What happens if I'll never see the top?
You said you'll be there if I make it or not Either way you'll be with me

Because what we think becomes an energy
Release it all around and let it be

'Cause everything we are is a chain reaction
No one would exist if it worked for passion
If you don't believe, you're moving forward, you're
living in reward,
It's about this love, it's a chain reaction

Wish it was simple like one, two, three
And everything I do is good for me
And everyone is how that's supposed to be That's impossibility, o-oh!

Because what we think becomes an energy
Release it all around and let it be

'Cause everything we are is a chain reaction
No one would exist if it worked for passion
If you don't believe, you're moving forward, you're
living in reward,
It's about this love, it's a chain reaction

Everything started from nothing,
Then put into motion and something
Everything started from nothing,
Now it's a separate thing, yeah, it's separate

'Cause everything we are is a chain reaction
No one would exist if it worked for passion
If you don't believe, you're moving forward, you're

living in reward,
It's about this love, it's a chain reaction

Everything we are is a chain reaction
No one would exist if it worked for passion
If you don't believe, you're moving forward, you're
living in reward,
It's about this love, it's a chain reaction
