Up the street we walked, the boulevard with the bus stops

Where the nameless flowers nod in the wind

The sunlight, the haze wave, the gentle wind that stroked your cheeks

Do you remember the promises we made that day?

Journeying into memories makes me love you more Because you were always there

The miracle happens when two hearts join together
When I close my eyes, we are together.

Your smile is a priceless jewel
I don't want anything else

The magic called destiny that brought us together
Please let this moment stay forever, I pray

My tears are flowing because love hurts
Because I am overjoyed right now

Sometimes we misunderstand each other
But the storm always passes
We can cross our hearts and make up

We are together forever
