

Asleep At The Wheel "Golden"

Visit "Golden" on MotoLyrics.com

Number one, we had fun, but wasn't really serious
Cause we were much too young
Number two felt more true with each line
Number three, chemistry, but inevitably wrong for me
Number four, he was too old for me

And I never loved so hard, never hurt so bad
Never been such a fool for love
And I never want so bad just to do it all again
Find one who's golden, never let go when it's love
Or you'll find yourself waiting alone
And you'll dream back the way that it was
And wonder which was love

Number five, hello goodbye
He was sorta famous so it was a story for a while Number six, why should color matter?
Number seven should be revvin', but he wanted to get deep too fast
Numbe eight, vulnerable me

And I never loved so hard, never hurt so bad
Never been such a fool for love
And I never want so bad just to do it all again
Find one who's golden, never let go when it's love
Or you'll find yourself waiting alone
And you'll dream back the way that it was
And wonder which was love

Which was love

And I never loved so hard, never hurt so bad
Never been such a fool for love
And I never want so bad just to do it all again
Find one who's golden, never let go when it's love
Or you'll find yourself waiting alone
And you'll dream back the way that it was
And wonder which was love

