I've spent the last few nights
Since I first found out
Tortured by the phone and it makes more sense to be Filled with doubt
So you moved too soon
So you're lost to me
Now I can't find your voice and the words you speak and
It's terrifying
It's strange to antique something old like truth
I find it rather bold in the ways you chose to expose
Your youth
So you're different now
So I made you sad
And I can't find the map that was marked to lead to the Heart you had

Soon
I'll forgive and forget about you
And any memory of what you are to me will be washed Away
And sure, I'm sad to lose, but I will conceive that
It was beautiful but sometimes cruel _
And it's strange to me how when stories change
With those things we _
Be sad but it's not my way
I wish you well
Still our love
Hope you're happy now
Or at least happier than when truth was true
A lie for life
Goodbye
Goodbye
Goodbye
