(Chorus) 2x's

Lord I plead for mercy reputation's dirty headed straight to hell unless you deem me worthy mercy me and clean me give me what I need of thee one more opportunity to please thee being free

(verse 1)

fell into a black puddle got soaked with sin could've leaped over but got lost within hot outside but I'm cold and I've gotten sick looked and felt good at first Satan's big trick drew me in appealing to my deep desires kept me in by giving me what I required never realized everything I was actually losing only seeing what I thought I was gaining Satan knew it praying the worst for my future hates my existence ego of a sore loser stole my potential pulled me down to his level avenging his eviction from his once higher level my sin's before odors to the nostrils above could've killed me but hesitated out of love despite my mess he still has the last say about consequences presumed to come my way preceding words from above is what I live by not bread or lies Satan gives to get by I realize Christ alone is who's for me and his grace and acceptance is what I need

(Chorus) 2x's

(verse 2)

Heaven's gates hell's flames heavens my choice sub conscience wide awake I'm listening to that voice warning me of traps so I don't take extra laps finish line dead ahead no need to gaze at a map When I go deep inside intimacy will arise

I see my strength's and weaknesses as they abide working towards perfection my sin's hold me back falling short leaving me vulnerable to attack Lord make me over make me stronger than before rejecting every sin that stands at my door only open to you and everything you're about as a fallen saint your power is my only way out of the grasp of the enemy sharing in his fate Lord I pray my soul you only will take I will die one day become absent from this body So my goal until then is to give you all of me heart, soul, mind, spirit, might, strength, and time leaving old habits and the old me behind I want everything you have for me plus more therefore leaving all that didn't help me before

(Chorus) 2x's
