I can tell by the way you're looking you need something from me
And I could bet it's affirmation that you're seeking 'Cause my million thank yous sound like silence in response
To all you give when you don't get those 3 words from me

So forgive me if I sing nervous For once I'm gonna be assertive
So I won't lose before I learn That you, too, need to know you've heard it

So here's to believe, that I'm feeling right for you
Here's to believe, my heart is on your side Here's to believe, this song says everything I couldn't find While looking for a melody to come alive, so come alive

Listen close and look as I stumble deeper and you will see
'Cause you can hear under my breath when I hardly breathe
More than butterflies I'm feeling hot like bricks on me
And simple words are so so far from coming to me, yeah

And so I'm making my own measure La di da da attempt to sink your feather
With a promise you'll feel better
If you read this song like a love letter

So here's to believe, that I'm feeling right for you
Here's to believe, my heart is on your side
Here's to believe, this song says everything I couldn't
While looking for a melody to come alive, so come
alive

La la la, la la la la la
La la la, la la la la la

La la la, la la la la la, la la, la la la

Here's to believe, that I'm feeling love for you
Here's to believe, my heart is on your side
Here's to believe, this song says everything I couldn't
While looking for a melody to come alive

I'm feeling love for you And here's to believe my heart is on your side And here's to believe, this song says everything I couldn't find
While looking for a melody to come alive, so come
alive

La la la la, la la la la
La la la la, la la la la
La la la la, la la la la
