Life's are open, every day's a little tug of war Take it too easy and you might end up muddy and coarse
But if you hold it at the hip
You just might win it
There are choices that you wish would never show their head
Days the cards aren't on your side but they're the ones you get
There's a moment you can choose
What you say is what you do

[chorus:]

You don't know the story
You don't know what happened
You don't know me like you thought you did or you'd be
laughin'
Days are just erasin'
You complain like crazy
Life should be about love and peace and me and you
and daisies
Me and you and daisies
Me and you and daisies

There are fires of the heart and there's a storm that spreads
There are questions when you slice what everybody says
There's no power to rewind when you're the one who said it
Do you hold your shoulders back so you won't cross the line?
And when you're on your knees, do you think you've got a lot of time?
'Cause there's a riddle in the wind
Can it blow you down again?

[chorus:]

You don't know the story
You don't know what happened
You don't know me like you thought you did or you'd be
laughin'

Days are just erasin'
You complain like crazy
and daisies
Me and you and daisies
Me and you and daisies

Life's a letter that you send
You can't write it out again
What's the use if love's a trend?
When you believe in me depends

[chorus:]
You don't know the story
You don't know what happened
You don't know me like you thought you did or you'd be
laughin'
Days are just erasin'
You complain like crazy
and daisies

You don't know the story
You don't know what happened
You don't know me like you thought you did or you'd be
laughin'
Days are just erasin'
You complain like crazy
Life should be about love and peace and me and you
and daisies
Me and you and daisies
Me and you and daisies
Me and you and daisies
Me and you and daisies
