this road is goin nowhere,
and these,
these shoes are worn too thin, there's always should've where I'm goin, there's always could've where I've been,

anywhere but here,
I wish I was,
anywhere but here,

there's always footsteps from behind me,
but don't they ever read the writing on the wall, and all this time I've spent rewinding might mean nothing
might mean nothin at all

I wish I was,
anywhere but here,
just to be,
anywhere but here,

the bed next to me is empty,
just like the,
the shell I've been tryin to fill,
the things put in life to tempt me,
they can't ever,
they won't break my will,

but I wish I was,
anywhere but here,
just to be,
anywhere but here,
I wish I was,
anywhere but here,
just to be anywhere but here.
