

Aaron Lewis

"Lessons Learned"

Visit "Lessons Learned" on MotoLyrics.com

I've walked a mile in the shoes of a broken man I've fallen down a thousand times and got up again There's times I've talked to god likes he's my only friend
There's times it seems the devil is trying to take my by the hand
Cause in life sometimes you got slow it down a little bit take time
Rewind appreciate the little things that life revise to you

I've borrowed pages from the life of Johnny Cash I've tried to find the answer from a whisky glass I've done a lot of things back in my shady past
And I've sat on that old metal bed just living way to fast Cause in life you'll find you got to slow it down a little bit take time
Rewind appreciate the little things that life revise to you

And these pictures running through my head as I sat there on that cold
Metal bed and wondered how I wound up here again Because in life you'll find you gotta slow it down a little bit take time
Rewind appreciate the little things that life revise to you

Visit Aaron Lewis page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.