14 quiet days

these hours just slept in your place

white sand and a vague

sense of youth

how can i get through

it's a violent truth

that I'm like you

16 lonely hours

no sun or depth

15 dreams of you all alone

but still far from reach crosses traced in white sand

you said the first time was so perfect but the rest was all just wrong you said there too many gone too long
